DTK-2451/DTH-2452

Premium display for handling electronic documents

Product Overview

Featuring 24-inch, full HD displays, the DTK-2451 and DTH-2452 are Wacom's largest pen displays for businesses and educational institutions. The generous active area provides a comfortable work surface for writing and signing digital documents or annotating directly on presentations. Industry-leading digital pen performance allows users to add drawings, sketches and diagrams to presentations or lesson plans to elaborate on key concepts and spontaneously integrate new ideas into the discussion.

And with 2,048 levels of pen pressure, users can enjoy precise drawing, writing, and annotating, plus enhanced biometric signature capture. The DTH-2452's multi-touch screen also supports touch gestures and navigation.

Key Features & Benefits

- Optimal user comfort with the large 23.8" color LCD panel that offers a generous working area and a wide viewing angle
- Biometrically-accurate input precision with 2048 levels of digital pen pressure for precise drawing, writing, and annotating, plus enhanced biometric signature capture
- Flexible display options with support for both analog and digital connections with DVI-I passthrough connections and HDCP compliance
- Versatile usage in any working environment with a flexible stand, allowing the device to be used at multiple angles, and built-in standard VESA mounts to allow the use of 3rd-party stands
- Intuitive navigation with support for common gestures through multi-touch functionality (DTH-2452 only)
- Ease of use is enhanced with 4 user-assignable ExpressKeys to access common functions or tools, plus an integrated USB port to provide easy access to users' favorite USB devices
